MacroSTAT 1.0

This is a statistical generation program for those of you who are thinking in Macro sizes. It asks a few questions and helps you compute all kinds of fun and CORRECT statistics for your Macro self.

Porportional Growth and Spacial Math are often mis-understood by the average person. If a given object doubles in height, most people think that it's weight merely doubles. This is not correct, it is 8 times heavier. Basically, as linear measurement grow at a certain rate, volume based measurements grow at the cube of that rate. (volume is the cube of the linear sides, remmeber?)

Enough technical, if you don't believe me, check out a physics or math book that addresses the subject of growth. Otherwise, you can use this little form to generate accurate descriptions of your Macro.
